MERRY CHRISTMAS

This is the depiction of Sharlene Rhodd's entry in the Heritage Poster Competition which was used for the Prime Minister's Christmas card.

At His coming
He brought us the gift of love.
His legacy we must share
so that each and
every one's heart
will be filled with love.
Best wishes for Christmas and the New Year.

Editorial

1997 in Jamaica was a year filled with intense activities and as it draws to a close we wish for everyone a joyous and peaceful season.

Among our most memorable and indeed sad events was the passing of former Prime Minister, the Rt. Hon. Michael Manley.

On a more enjoyable note we re-instituted our Emancipation Anniversary after 35 years of Independence.

To top it off, Jamaica has now qualified for the 1998 World Cup Football. What a victory and celebration it was here and abroad. It goes to show 'we little but we tallawah'.

As this millennium draws to a close, let us as Jamaicans approach it with the spirit of unity, hope and a firm determination to succeed.

Let us remember what Christmas really is, a time to celebrate the birth of Christ. As we celebrate, remember to share with the less fortunate and to love someone. For those in colder climes keep warm and drink lots of hot egg-nog (a recipe is included in this issue).

Until next year
Feliz Navidad, Joy-
eaux Noel, Froliche
Weihnachten —Merry
Christmas Everyone.

2,300 BENEFIT FROM LAND/ HOUSES IN MOBAY

2,300 persons recently received land and housing benefits from the Government through developments by the Urban Development Corporation (UDC) and the National Housing Trust (NHT) at Lilliput and Green Ponds, both on the outskirts on Montego Bay in St James.

Prime Minister P.J. Patterson was on hand to present land titles to some of the 250 residents of Lilliput who have received legal ownership documents for land under phase one of the programme.

Ground will be broken early next year for the construction of a Ritz Carlton Hotel on the RoseHall property nearby. The hotel development will provide an additional 250 rooms for the tourist industry, while creating employment for many persons from the area.

UDC Chairman Dr Vin Lawrence said the Corporation had made the lots available to the people at less than market value, in recognition of their lower-income status.

The Cornwall Court Housing Development project was started last year and at Green Pond will see the delivery of 3,000 housing solutions and the installation of infrastructure such as roads, water supply, electricity and a sewerage system.

Prime Minister Patterson has advised that the NHT was currently engaged in providing 5,000 housing solutions in St James, Hanover, Westmoreland and St Ann. This was part of the Government's programme to develop housing infrastructure in western Jamaica, to support the growth of the tourism sector and to facilitate the orderly development of the region.

The government has provided

He also pointed to the provision of mortgages at 2 per cent for contributors earning less than $1,000 per week, as an example of the Government's creativity and concern for the poor. Prime Minister Patterson said the Government's commitment to the provision of land and shelter was a demonstration of its aim to create a quality Jamaican society.

The Government has provided more than 64,000 housing solutions since 1989, with more to come before the end of the year.

more than 64,000 housing solutions since 1989, with more to come before the end of the year. Mortgages by the NHT, the Prime Minister pointed out, totalled 29,000 for the past eight years, with 6,000 having been granted this year alone.

This squatter upgrading and regularisation project, undertaken by the UDC will see the delivery of titles to 725 more people in phase two and the development has been complemented by the installation of necessary infrastructure such as water, electricity supply and roads.

OLE TIME CHRISTMAS RECIPES

TIE-A-LEAF

(Duckoono, Boyo, or Blue Drawers)

Many people think they will not be able to make this dish because they have no leaf to tie it in, nor any banana bark to tie it with. Please know that the taste is just as good tied in foil with a string. Call it Duckoono, Boyo or Blue Drawers, this West African dish is always popular. Tie-a-leaf is like a boiled pudding and can be made with cornmeal, green bananas and sweet potatoes or a mixture of your choice. Grated coconut is always included to give a 'bite' that is appreciated.

Ingredients

3 cups	grated green bananas
2 cups	grated sweet potatoes
1 cup	flour
1 tsp.	baking powder
1 tsp.	salt
2 cups	coconut milk
1 1/2 cups	brown sugar
1 tsp.	vanilla
1 tsp.	mixed spice
2 tbsp.	melted margarine
1 cup	grated coconut
1/4 cups	raisins

Combine grated bananas, sweet potatoes, flour, baking powder, salt, mixed spice, margarine, grated coconut and raisins. Sweeten coconut mixture with sugar and add vanilla. Pour milk mixture in banana mixture and blend well. Prepare banana leaf by cutting off entire vein and holding leaf over boiling water or before an open flame to make it pliable.

Put 1/2 cup mixture in banana leaves or in foil and fold up sides to make parcel. Tie with banana bark or twine. Place parcels in enough boiling water to cover and boil for 30 minutes. Remove leaf covering to serve or place on a small piece of prepared banana leaf and garnish with nuts and chilled banana cream. Serves 8.

HOT EGG PUNCH

Many churches have Midnight Mass or an early morning service at 5 a.m. on Christmas morning. Egg nog is the traditional drink on Christmas morning and is usually made in large quantities. Although there is no snow on the ground in Jamaica at Christmas, the mornings can be nippy so it is usually served hot.

Ingredients

6	eggs
	pinch of salt
5 tbsp.	granulated sugar
4 cups	milk
1 cup	Jamaica rum or 1 cup brandy
	grated nutmeg

Beat egg yolks with mixer until thick and lemon coloured. Add salt and sugar.

Gradually pour a small amount of heated milk into egg mixture, so it will not cook the eggs. Continue to add milk until the eggs are almost the same temperature as the milk, then pour in all at once.

Add rum and brandy as required. Sprinkle with grated nutmeg and serve.

J$26M BY-PASS ROAD

Prime Minister P.J. Patterson recently opened a J$26 million by-pass Road in East Westmoreland.

The 1.3 kilometre roadway, constructed by local contractor Dr. Foote and Company, was the second phase development of a plan to rationalise the Bluefields Beach into an enclosed recreational area. The development is being handled by Urban Development Corporation and is fully financed by the Government of Jamaica.

The first phase of the Bluefields Development involved construction of the J$12 million Bluefields Beach Park which opened in March. Another phase is to come on stream to include development of a play-field and further work at the beach area.

MORE MONEY FOR PENSIONERS

Retired Public Servants should soon be receiving better pensions as a result of amendments to the laws.

Pensions will now be calculated at a rate of 1/540th of pensionable emoluments, instead of 1/600th with effect from June 10, 1996. This means that a pensioner with 25 years service, or 300 months, who retires with a monthly salary of J$20,000 will receive a monthly pension of 300 times J$20,000 divided by 540 or J$11,111.11. Previously his pension would be 300 times J$20,000 divided by 600, or J$10,000. The requirement that pensions should not exceed two-thirds of the highest pensionable emoluments, or the amount that would accumulate over 33 1/3 years, has been abolished. This means that a person who worked for more than 33 1/3 years can receive pension for the entire period worked.

Persons who retired from the Public Service between 1986 and 1989 will also get the increased pensions.

MANLEY MEADOWS NEARS COMPLETION

Some home owners in Government's Manley Meadows housing development on Bellevue lands in Kingston, could move into their new dwellings by Christmas.

This is the word from Prime Minister P.J. Patterson, who toured the 1,156-unit development recently.

Mr. Patterson said he was pleased with the progress of work on the project being undertaken as a joint venture between the National Housing Trust and the Urban Development Corporation, two agencies for which he has direct portfolio responsibility.

Work on the new housing scheme named after former Prime Minister, Michael Manley in the East Kingston and Port Royal constituency, which he once represented, is scheduled to be completed by May 1998.

The project is being developed at a cost of One billion dollars and involves the construction of 1,068 studio units and 88 two bedroom units.
